

OFFICE OF THE PRESIDENT MEMORANDUM

To: All Full-time Faculty at LIU Post
From: Kimberly R. Cline, President
Date: September 27, 2013
Subject: Invitation to Strategic Planning Faculty Roundtable

Dear LIU Post Full-time Faculty Member,

As I shared in my e-mail communication earlier this month, LIU is embarking on a new strategic planning process. A University-wide strategic planning committee, including representatives from the three faculty governance bodies and the University Faculty Senate, and facilitated by experienced consultants, has been convened.

A key part of the consultants' work is to engage a broad cross-section of campus representatives through roundtable discussions with faculty, students, deans, staff, alumni and others to discuss the major themes, priorities and challenges facing the University.

I am writing to invite you to participate in these roundtables as your schedule permits. Each session will last between 1 and 1 ½ hours. This strategic planning initiative will be a crucial factor in contributing to LIU's future success and our ability to offer students the best possible educational experience. I hope you will join me in supporting this effort by sharing your thoughts and ideas freely with Janet Lenaghan and Adam Gaynor, who will be hosting the roundtable sessions.

In order to help Dr. Lenaghan and Mr. Gaynor prepare for each session, please RSVP to Heather Gibbs (Heather.Gibbs@liu.edu). I look forward to our collective contribution to this important process.
