Copper Beech Tree Dedicated for Village's 75th Anniversary

A magnificent Rohan Copper Beech tree was dedicated on the Great Lawn of the C.W. Post Campus on April 22 in honor of the Village of Brookville's 75th anniversary. At an afternoon ceremony, Village of Brookville Mayor Richard P. Goodwin referred to the Copper Beech as the "relationship tree" that signifies the good-will and camaraderie that exists between the University and residents of the Village. Located near a well-traveled walkway, the tree is an outstanding addition to the C.W. Post Community Arboretum and will be enjoyed for many generations of students and visitors to come. More than 40 guests enjoyed a reception in the Great Hall following the ceremony.

From the Editor

John Romer, a famed artist and illustrator, had it right when he said, “The world is a nicer place when you know who’s in it.”

Over the past five years I have had the pleasure to meet so many local residents through wonderful events both on and off campus. In this issue you will see many of the people who I have gotten to know. Together we have enjoyed music and art (see back page, “Wonderful Town”), confectionery refreshments (see cover page, ice cream social and day at the circus) and the great outdoors (see page 2, copper beech tree dedicated). I hope you too will join us for our next gathering, Homecoming and Family Day, on October 6.

Did you know that our Village has welcomed more than 20 new families in the past year alone? Whether you are new to the neighborhood or a long-time resident, the C.W. Post Campus is a great place to initiate new friendships and also benefit from outstanding arts, culture, education and recreation.

Your involvement at our University enriches all of us. I look forward to meeting you soon. You can contact me at (516) 299-3500 or e-mail neighbor@liu.edu.
