Get Involved in Student Life...

GET INVOLVED IN STUDENT LIFE!

Student Life and Leadership Development encourages you to get involved during your college years. There are more than 60 registered clubs and organizations at LIU Post. These clubs and organizations are funded through your student activity fee to provide programs for the student body. The following list of all registered student organizations will tell you the purpose of each group and the type of membership it offers. If you are interested in forming a new organization or wish to find out about any listed organization, please contact Lauren Pecoraro at Lauren.Pecoraro@liu.edu, or visit us in Hillwood Commons Room 102. New organizations are formed every semester, and the office makes every effort to provide the type of organizations that fit your interests. Be sure to ask about our new clubs, or to inquire about starting a new one!

Student Life and Leadership Development provides professional programming advice and services. The office sponsors special university-wide programs, schedules meeting space and van usage for student organizations, and coordinates the New Student Orientation Program. Student Life and Leadership Development also oversees the operation of Hillwood Commons, LIU Post's student center. Make the most of your college career by participating in one of these exciting clubs and organizations. Be a part of "POST PRIDE" and get in on the FUN!

Clubs and Organizations

Accounting Society - The Accounting Society serves as a link between the college student and the accounting profession. Besides crunching numbers, the Accounting Society also serves the LIU Post community by sharing information and assisting non-majors so that they may better understand the field through their social activities.

American Marketing Association (AMA) - AMA is a club meant to ease the transition from college into the real world by bringing together students interested in marketing and all areas of business.

American String Teacher Association (ASTA) - Any LIU Post student interested in playing and teaching string instruments at the elementary, middle, high school and collegiate levels.

Animal Lovers United (ALU) - A club dedicated to the safety, health, protection and overall welfare of animals. We work in conjunction with other animal organizations in an effort to raise funds that will go towards the care of vulnerable animals. We work collectively to stop gross practices involving animal cruelty such as animal testing, hunting, and the running of puppy mills. Our mission is to make an impact and bring awareness to the plight of animals by getting people to join the cause on behalf of all helpless animals.

Anointed Voices Gospel Choir - Anointed Voices Gospel Choir seeks to examine the historical origins of gospel music, study contemporary gospel arrangements, and to teach and sing its techniques. Anointed Voices rehearses regularly and performs throughout the academic year.

Art & Art History Club – Our club provides an academic, social, and professional network for LIU Post students wishing to pursue a profession in the visual arts or those interested in enriching their academic experience outside of the classroom. The club will provide a platform for the exchange of ideas in scholarship, for sharing information and contacts relevant to professions/internships in the visual arts, and serve as a resource for art-related events, films, exhibitions, and lectures.

Association for Campus Programming (ACP) – ACP is the campus programming board, creates diverse activities and events for LIU Post students. Through their understanding of common interests among students, ACP plans both large and small events to enhance college life outside of the classroom.

Black Students United (BSU) - At weekly meetings, BSU's members interact to discuss topics concerning the community. BSU sponsors several events throughout the year, and diligently works to promote diversity and cultural programs (such as their annual Kwanzaa Ball and Pajama Jam) for the LIU Post community.

Brothers and Sisters in Christ (B.A.S.I.C.) - B.A.S.I.C. gathers to educate students about the Gospel of Jesus Christ and provides a spiritual, supportive, and social environment for all students. Come to our weekly Bible studies to learn more or just to listen and be heard.

Conversations Helping and Teaching Students (C.H.A.T.S.) - The main objectives of C.H.A.T.S. revolves around creating a stronger campus bond between the domestic and international community. Through the usage of language, we plan to strengthen and motivate the student population with the power of communication. The main goals of C.H.A.T.S. include emphasizing culture, promoting the urge to learn, and forming long life friendships and bonds.

Chinese Students and Scholars Association (CSSA) - To enhance mutual understanding, strengthen friendships, provide and assist each other. CSSA hopes to blend the international students with American students at LIU Post.

Circle K – The purpose of Circle-K shall be to incorporate a branch of Kiwanis International on the Post Campus of Long Island University. This organization, like its parent organization, is dedicated to community service work and active citizenship showing Service, Leadership and Fellowship. Circle-K will provide opportunities for members, and the Post community, to participate in volunteer work.

Commuter Student Association (CSA)- The CSA caters to the commuters on campus looking to get involved and form lasting friendships with those a part of the LIU Post community. Through CSA-sponsored events, commuters are able to mingle with resident and commuter students, enriching their overall college experience. They also work closely with other student groups as well as the administration to voice commuter concerns on campus.

Delta-X- Are you Extreme? Delta-X takes LIU Post student daredevils on fun and exciting trips throughout the academic year. With activities including rock-climbing, skiing, snowboarding, camping, and hiking, this group challenges students mentally and physically, allowing them to boost confidence and enhance community involvement.

Do Something - Our club is one of the largest organizations that helps young people take action in the causes they care about. LIU Post's DoSomething club is a social action club that inspires, empowers and celebrates a generation of doers. Bringing the students together who see the need to do something, believe in their ability to get it done, and then take action.

Dumbledore's Army - Calling all Harry Potter fans! Dumbledore's Army is a club for those fascinated with J.K. Rowling's Harry Potter book series. Through film and book analysis, events, and meetings, this group brings together students who share affection for this phenomenon.

Emerging Student Theatre Artists (ESTA) - ESTA's purpose is to unite students who have a passion for theatre while cultivating and promoting theatre art outside of the classroom. This club strives to produce challenging and unpredictable new theatre and foster the creative work of innovative young minds on campus.

Financial Management Association (FMA) -FMA's chapter at LIU Post is meant to assist students who are interested in finance, banking and investments. Field trips to reserve banks and the New York Mercantile Exchange are just some of the many trips organized by the FMA.

Forensic Science Club- Similar to the television phenomenon CSI, LIU Post's Forensic Science Club attempts to advance their skills as problem solvers. Their signature Murder Mystery Dinner is just one of many fun events they host throughout the academic year.

Health and Physical Education Majors Club- The purpose of the Health and Physical Education Majors Club is to encourage, advance, and contribute to the professional growth and development of men and women in the field of health and physical education. Members participate in outside-the-classroom involvement by sponsoring various activities and learning trends and issues in the field.

Hillel (Jewish Community) - Hillel is the Jewish Community on campus which supports a diverse array of programs and connects Jewish students to meaningful and exciting opportunities for learning and socializing. Hillel is a place for holiday celebrations, Shabbat services, community service programs, social activism, and all sorts of fun and educational events.

Indo -American Club - The Indo-American Club offers students a chance to learn more about the South Asian immigrant culture. Through programming, friendship, and by nurturing a sense of community, the Indo-American Club helps foster appreciation for the culture and heritage.

International Student Union (ISU) - The ISU is a multi-cultural organization that fosters growth and inclusion of the entire international student population. Open to all, ISU offers every student the opportunity to learn and explore the diversity of the LIU Post community.

Korean Student Association (KSA) - The Korean Student Association's mission is to build a strong sense of community between Korean students, International student and the rest of the LIU Post population, as well as encouraging knowledge of and appreciation for Korean culture.

Masters of Social Work- Masters of Social Work is a club geared toward graduate students interested in advancing their skills in the field of social work. In their service to LIU Post and the surrounding communities, the Masters of Social Work Club creates projects and events to educate and assist others around them.

Men Respecting All Women & Women Appreciating Real Men (MRAW/ WARM): Our club is dedicated towards the respect of women. We look to get rid of the negative stereotype of men being disrespectful by giving male college students the opportunity to become better gentleman in their lives. We also attempt to empower women by taking action on women's issues and work towards the causes of domestic violence, rape, and human trafficking.

National Association for Music Education (NAFME) - is an organization of future music teachers and collegians that are in training to enter the profession. The activities of the chapter include professional conferences - County, State, Divisional, and National.

Workshops, clinics, and lectures on current topics are presented by nationally prominent clinicians and job opportunities are also available.

National Association for the Advancement of Colored People (NAACP) - LIU Post's chapter of NAACP's Youth and College Division confronts issues affecting people of all races, religions and backgrounds. They proactively strive to be the leaders and trendsetters of today's generation through outreach and education.

National Student Speech, Language, Hearing Association (NSSLHA) - The LIU Post Chapter of NSSLHA creates a fuller appreciation and awareness of the issues regarding speech-language pathology and audiology. If you are looking to pursue a career in a related field, this is a great place to network and share information with like-minded people.

Newman Club Catholic Community - The Newman Club is the Catholic organization on campus that welcomes all students to participate. Students who want to get involved with community service, grow spiritually and intellectually, and socialize with other students should join the Newman Club. Through Newman's trips, retreats, service projects, and parties, members are able to serve God and experience His presence in daily life.

Nutrition Club- In a world of fast-food and quick fixes, the Nutrition Club seeks to educate students so that they can make smart and healthy choices. If you are looking to start a career in the field of nutrition or just take an interest in knowing more about your own body, this is a great place to socialize and learn more. Planning various events and initiatives throughout the year, the Nutrition Club seeks to make the world a little healthier, one person at a time!

The Opticon (Yearbook) - Somewhere between the late night studying and partying, an academic year full of events goes by. A year-in-review of our students, campus events, clubs and organizations is artistically organized in digital and print form to keep the memories of the LIU Post college days alive for many years to come.

P.A.G.A.N.S (People about the Goddesses/ Gods And Nature-based Studies) - Learn the history and the foundations of Wicca, Asatru, Druidry, and Discordianism through interactive programming and community service.

The Pioneer-The Pioneer is LIU Post's award-winning weekly newspaper that keeps you up-to-date with campus, local and world-wide happenings. All students are welcome to join! Write a review, report, or editorial and inform others through photography and the written word. The News, Features, Review and Opinion sections are always open to new talent, so join us to learn and have fun through real journalism experience.

The Post Bottom Line - The Bottom Line is that this magazine is edgy, interesting and uncensored! Issues of the Bottom Line include fun stories, facts, and opinions which are written and photographed by LIU Post students.

Pioneerettes (Kickline) Club – LIU Post is proud to present their recently founded competitive Kickline Team. Kickline encompasses all styles of dance, from jazz and hip-hop, to pom and sequences of high-kick. The Pioneerettes embody the true spirit of Post pride. Kickline is open to all levels, from novice to the most experienced.

Post Anime and Gaming Entertainment Society (P.A.G.E.S.) - This fun-filled organization entertains LIU Post students by hosting events centered on video games and board games. In this society, students show their competitive nature and come together for tournaments and leisure activities.

Post Television Station (PTV- Channel 96) - PTV is the on-campus television station that provides a medium of entertainment and information for the Campus. This student-run station educates those who are interested in broadcasting and entertains the community by airing daily movies and student-created shows.

Pre-Law Association- “Order in the Court!” Pre-Law Association prepares students considering careers in law and criminal justice. As a group, they create “game plans” for their futures as lawyers and activists and participate in discussions, debates, and events related to the field.

Rainbow Alliance - The Rainbow Alliance is an open-minded group of students who provide acceptance and support for those of all sexual orientations. The club’s mission is to educate and unite LIU Post by opening the lines of communication among students for tolerance and love in today’s world.

Say Anything Improv- Say What?! Say Anything Improv is an organization based on the show “Who’s Line Is It Anyway?” as it gives students an opportunity to have fun and laugh. Club Meetings usually include playing improvisational games and performing skits. Even if you aren’t interested in performing, audiences are always welcome to watch and give suggestions!

Sigma Delta Phi Epsilon, Inc. - Sigma Delta Phi Epsilon is a service organization that promotes multiculturalism and strives to deteriorate stereotypes within cultures and genders. By emphasizing respect, family individuality, culture, education, leadership, community service and co-education, the group works to raise self-awareness and wisdom that will demolish racism and ethnocentrism.

Society of Human Resource Management (SHRM) - An informative and professional organization that will bring in guest speakers and experts from different areas within Human Resources. We host monthly events, with weekly meetings. HR is a field that is extremely important in all kinds of industries and firms, so this will be a good way to learn more in addition to the single class offered here at Post

Social Work Club- The Social Work Club's mission is to enhance the education and professional network of social work students and provide them, as well as all LIU Post students, with opportunities for volunteer and community service related to the field.

Student Art League- Watch out, Picasso! The Student Art League consists of members wishing to provide an artistic environment for those interested in creating and displaying the talents of our students!

Student Caribbean Association (SCA) - SCA is an organization that promotes the education of the Caribbean and caribine culture through lecture, demonstration and entertainment.

Student Dance Association- Embrace the art of dance through the Student Dance Association's demonstrations and entertaining performances! The SDA gives students an opportunity to experience and explore various types of dance including jazz, tap, and interpretive dance.

Student Government Association (SGA) - The Student Government Association works with all other clubs on Campus, handling requests and budgetary issues and instituting regulations. SGA serves as an outlet for student voices to be heard by working closely with the Administration to enhance the overall campus. While each member presents his/her own opinion, all members share the common goal of bettering the campus community.

Students Networking to Advocate a Positive Poetic Society (S.N.A.P.S.) - The S.N.A.P.S. organization on campus brings spoken word to the community and advocates for creative writers to openly share their literary creativity for criticism and support. They are active through programs and events which include writing circles, open mic nights, spoken word events, and literary publications.

Taiwanese Student Association -To promote friendship and non-political cultural exchange among all students of Long Island University.

The Runway - Coordinators, Models, and LIU Post's most fashionable students come together as a club to prepare for the cat walk at the annual spring Fashion Show. While Runway members diligently work to put on a memorable show, they remember to put their hearts and souls into their efforts since proceeds are given to a charity of choice.
Meetings:

Twice as Nice- It is not only to unite all sets of twins and those who have twins, but to also express the bond that twins share to the entire campus.

Turkish American Student Association- The Turkish American Student Association is an organization that aims to unite all Turkish and non-Turkish students. The purpose of this club is to improve the cultural, political, and social unity of Turkish and non-Turkish Veteran and Students United (VSU) - Veterans and Students United is an organization that provides a social and educational environment for student veterans, students, and LIU Post community members. The organization will work closely with other student organizations, LIU Post offices and departments – both academic and support components – to further the knowledge of veterans, and veteran needs.

Vikings - To bring Scandinavian students together, maintain the culture and educate students about Scandinavian countries here at LIU Post.

X-Factor Step Team - X-Factor Step Team has people stomping their feet as they present their rhythmic sound and motion at several performances and competitions throughout the year. Join us if you want to “stomp the yard” and take part in a cultural tradition.
