

TODD BREWSTER

Todd Brewster is a veteran journalist who has been a Senior Editor for Time-Life, Senior Producer with ABC News, and the Director of the Center for Oral History at West Point. He was co-author, with the late Peter Jennings, of the monumental best-seller "The Century", and was Executive Producer of the award-winning ABC documentary series of the same name. Brewster was also co-author, with Jennings, of the 2002 volume, "In Search of America", and producer of that ABC series as well.

He has written for the New York Times, Vanity Fair, and Time. In 2014, his book on the Emancipation Proclamation, "Lincoln's Gamble", appeared to great critical acclaim. Brewster has served as Knight Fellow at Yale Law School and has taught journalism and constitutional law at Temple University, Wesleyan University, and Western Connecticut State University. He is the Founding Director of The Peter Jennings Project for Journalism and the Constitution. He is presently the Senior Visiting Lecturer in Journalism at Mount Holyoke College.
