

LONG ISLAND UNIVERSITY

COVID-19 POLICY

PURPOSE

To ensure University adherence to New York State mandated Covid-19 guidelines.

STATEMENT OF POLICY

As a result of the COVID-19 pandemic, Long Island University has put into place an extensive and detailed plan to ensure the health and safety of the LIU community. To ensure that these measures are effective, every community member will be expected to exercise personal responsibility to protect themselves and others.

The following requirements are currently in place in response to the COVID-19 pandemic:

- Comply with the COVID-19 Vaccination Policy;
- Report a positive COVID-19 test, or potential COVID-19 symptoms immediately through the University's COVID-19 positive report form;
- Abide by directions to isolate or quarantine if directed to do so by the University.
- Follow any capacity limitations in common spaces, restrooms, and other locations.
- Wash hands with soap and water for at least twenty (20) seconds or use hand sanitizer frequently, or after contact with potentially-infected surfaces, to the greatest extent feasible;
- Cover coughs or sneezes, preferably with a tissue immediately disposed of, or into the sleeve or elbow, not hands;
- Abide by all New York State requirements, recommendations from the Center for Diseases Control and Prevention, and LIU policies related to the COVID-19 pandemic response.
- Follow additional policies and requirements, including but not limited to directional signage and seating and spacing instructions, which may be specific to certain campus locations, including but not limited to dining facilities, athletic facilities, and academic space such as classrooms, labs, rehearsal spaces, etc.

Long Island University reserves the right to remove any individual from campus for failure to abide by these policies if their actions are deemed a potential risk to others. Any student found responsible for violating any of these requirements may be subject to disciplinary action in accordance with the Long Island University Code of Conduct.

Please also note that the University reserves the right to update or change these requirements as conditions or information may change. The University will keep the community updated of policy and process changes through the LIU Coronavirus Website at www.liu.edu/coronavirus.
