

Dear Members of the LIU Community,

Out of an abundance of caution for our Community, the University made the decision to move academic instruction online for the remainder of the spring semester. With your cooperation and feedback, we will continue to enhance services that support a high-quality learning environment. If you have any questions or need support, please call or email the following departments:

We are monitoring the COVID-19 situation closely, and are continuing to work with all appropriate health authorities. The situation is evolving rapidly, and we will keep you updated through regular emails and notices on our website. As we navigate this uncharted landscape, we are here to support you.

I want to thank the many members of our Community who are working tirelessly to ensure that student educational goals are achieved. Our faculty are resilient and exhibited their professionalism and concern for students by transitioning to online instruction. Student life, information technology, facilities, and many other departments have shown a deep commitment to students and to the mission of our University through their extraordinary efforts.

Thank you students, for your patience, understanding and flexibility during this necessary transition. We are committed to providing you with a quality education. We encourage you to reach out to your academic dean if you need support - we are all here for you.

At this time, we have not made a decision about Commencement. It is our hope that May will bring a positive end to this global challenge. We plan to reassess the situation in a few weeks as we know that travel plans are affected.

I share in your concerns for family, friends, loved ones and the whole LIU Community and I am confident that our resiliency will sustain us through these challenging times.

We will continue to update you as information becomes available.

Sincerely,

Kimberly R. Cline
President
