Rise of the Roosevelts
Theodore Roosevelt, the 26th President of the United States, is often considered the first “modern president.” Conservationist, soldier, statesman, scholar, and Nobel Peace Prize winner, he remains one of America’s best models of presidential, global and executive leadership. Four Theodore Roosevelt scholars will present this three-part lecture series on Fridays, March 29 (10 a.m. – 12:30 p.m.), April 5 (9 a.m. – 11:30 a.m.) and April 12 (10 a.m. – 12:30 p.m.) in Krasnoff Theater. Fee: $40 per lecture; $110 for the series.

Conversations with Former Congressman Steve Israel
Congressman Israel will provide an inside look at how Washington really works, drawing on 16 years of experience in Congress. The lectures will be held Tuesdays, March 19 (Inside Congress), April 23 (Global Challenges), and May 14 (Common Ground) from 1:30 to 3:30 p.m. in Krasnoff Theater. Fee: $45 per lecture; $125 for the series.

Attention All Passengers: The Airlines’ Dangerous Descent—and How to Reclaim Our Skies
Consumer Reports aviation journalist William J. McGee will present a shocking exposé on the state of the “friendly skies” and how cost-cutting is negatively affecting our safety, our security, our health, and our comfort. This book takes you inside the industry with everyone from Captain “Sully” Sullenberger to Ralph Nader. Monday, April 29, 1 to 2:30 p.m., Lorber Hall. 1 session. Fee: $30

An Agatha Christie Festival...Grand Dame of “Who Dun It?”
Agatha Christie is best known for her detective novels, short story collections, plays and famous detective sleuths Hercule Poirot and Miss Marple. Recent revivals on stage and in films of Christie’s novels attest to her popularity. We will view three of her well known works: Ten Little Indians, Evil Under the Sun, Witness for the Prosecution. 1 to 3:30 p.m., May 1-15; 3 sessions. Fee: $90

Works by Geraldine Brooks
The body of work created by The New York Times best-selling novelist Geraldine Brooks is rich and varied. We will discuss three of her books and consider their place in her life’s work. Explore Year of Wonders: A Novel of the Plague, People of the Book and Caleb’s Crossing. 10:30 a.m. to 12 noon, March 29 – April 12, 3 sessions, Fee: $90
Our Heritage: Land of the Great Gatsby

The land that encompasses the 322-acre LIU Post campus depicts the beauty and historical significance of Long Island’s North Shore. The university owns and preserves many former Gold Coast estates, including the former properties of Marjorie Merriweather Post (heiress to the Post Cereal Company), E.F. Hutton (Wall Street broker), Adelaide Riggs (proprietor of Hillwood Kennels), S. Osgood Pell (NYC and Florida realtor), J. Randolph Robinson (Hardison, Walker & Co., brick manufacturing), Henry Wheeler Lowe (Higgins & Johnson, insurance), and Philip Grossler (president, Columbia Gas & Electric Co.).

We are proud to offer the Hutton House Lecture series in Lorber Hall, one of the grandest Georgian mansions on the North Shore. We are hosting a series of lectures this spring that pay tribute to the Gold Coast of Long Island.
