Dear !"FIRSTNAME"!,

On behalf of the entire LIU community, we welcome you for the fall semester. If you are receiving this letter, it is because you have been approved for remote learning accommodations.

LIU faculty will work diligently to ensure that you receive outstanding remote instruction allowing you to thrive in the online educational environment. We want to share with you some of the exciting approaches to educational design that faculty will use to provide engaged learning opportunities.

- Synchronous live streaming of lectures
- Asynchronous access to lectures via recordings
- Peer break-out groups for active learning
- Discussion forums for peer Q&A
- Supplemental videos from industry sources
- Audio-enhanced power-point slides
- Supplemental readings from industry sources
- Assessment tools to provide feedback on areas for improvement
- Remote office hours with professors

While taking classes remotely, you will continue to have access to all University student support services, including, LIU Promise, Enrollment Services, Library, Tutoring and Writing Center, Center for Healthy Living, and more. The Executive Dean of Students will be sharing an email this week about how to contact and utilize these services remotely. In addition to your academic engagement, you will also be able to participate remotely in student life activities and clubs through the Experience Shark Nation Portal.

You will receive additional information soon from your academic deans and departments regarding program specific information and how to access your course. We look forward to connecting with you very soon.

For questions, please contact gail.luksch@liu.edu.

Sincerely,

Dr. Ed Weis
Vice President of Academic Affairs

LONG ISLAND UNIVERSITY